

SANDY CHONG

SANDY CHONG, THE INSPIRING WOMAN BEHIND SYDNEY'S SUKI HAIRDRESSING SHOWS US HER ADAPTABLE STYLE, TIPS FOR SUCCESS AND WHAT IT'S LIKE WORKING WITH ONE OF THE BEST HAIR TEAMS IN TOWN.

Kate, me, Julia and Renee working at New York Fashion Week

Worst hairstyle I've ever seen? All of mine in the 80s - the perm, the mullet, the crew-cut, you name it!

Suki White Collection

Our six-minute show, White Lies, on our website. The Whitehouse Institute's dresses are amazing too.

The product I can't live without? My ghd stylers. They go everywhere with me.

The most incredible thing has been winning the Hair Expo Awards, and watching the Suki team and their successes.

I love the people I work with. They've all become my friends and family.

What's inspiring me? Our two new salons in Paddington and Newcastle - fantastic environments to work in.

My tips for the major trends coming from the runway are: braids, fringes, lots of swept sides, tousled locks, waves with ghds, wet and gelled fronts...
