

FASHION WITH A CONSCIENCE LAUNCH

The setting: Revamped Darlinghurst Salvos Store

The scene: Thrifty fashionistas

The skinny: Vintage-loving fashionistas flocked to the Salvation Army Salvos Stores new fashion campaign, 'Fashion With A Conscience'. Catwalk inspirations were courtesy of students from The Whitehouse Institute of Design and eco-friendly designer Kirrily Johnston, who produced some amazing looks from recycled fashion.

Cheers: The formula to make your party pop is pretty easy. Send a bunch of invites to the guys at Make Me A Supermodel and you'll have enough blue steel to make Derek Zoolander proud.
