YEN was asked to donate a bunch of YEN magazines as a fashion media source for first year students at Whitehouse Institute of Design. The school offers students a three-year bachelor degree of design and they can major in design, interior design, styling or fashion design. Some of the more well known students that have graduated and gone on to be highly successful in the Australian and International fashion markets are Camilla & Mark and Daniel Avakian. We wish the new students all the best with their studies!!
