

Students considering resuming studies after an approved leave of absence (deferment in full) or returning after withdrawal (formal or informal) are required to submit this Application to Resume Studies at Whitehouse Institute of Design, Australia (Whitehouse). On receipt of application by student administration, applicants will be required to meet with the relevant Program Coordinator and or Student Administration to discuss returning to studies.

Whitehouse has strict entry requirements to enable it to identify students with a strong potential to succeed in the chosen course of study. Accordingly, applicants applying to resume studies must agree to satisfy the:

- Creative and Academic requirements of their course
- Professional conduct and engagement requirements of their course.
